Alumni E-News

Dear ,

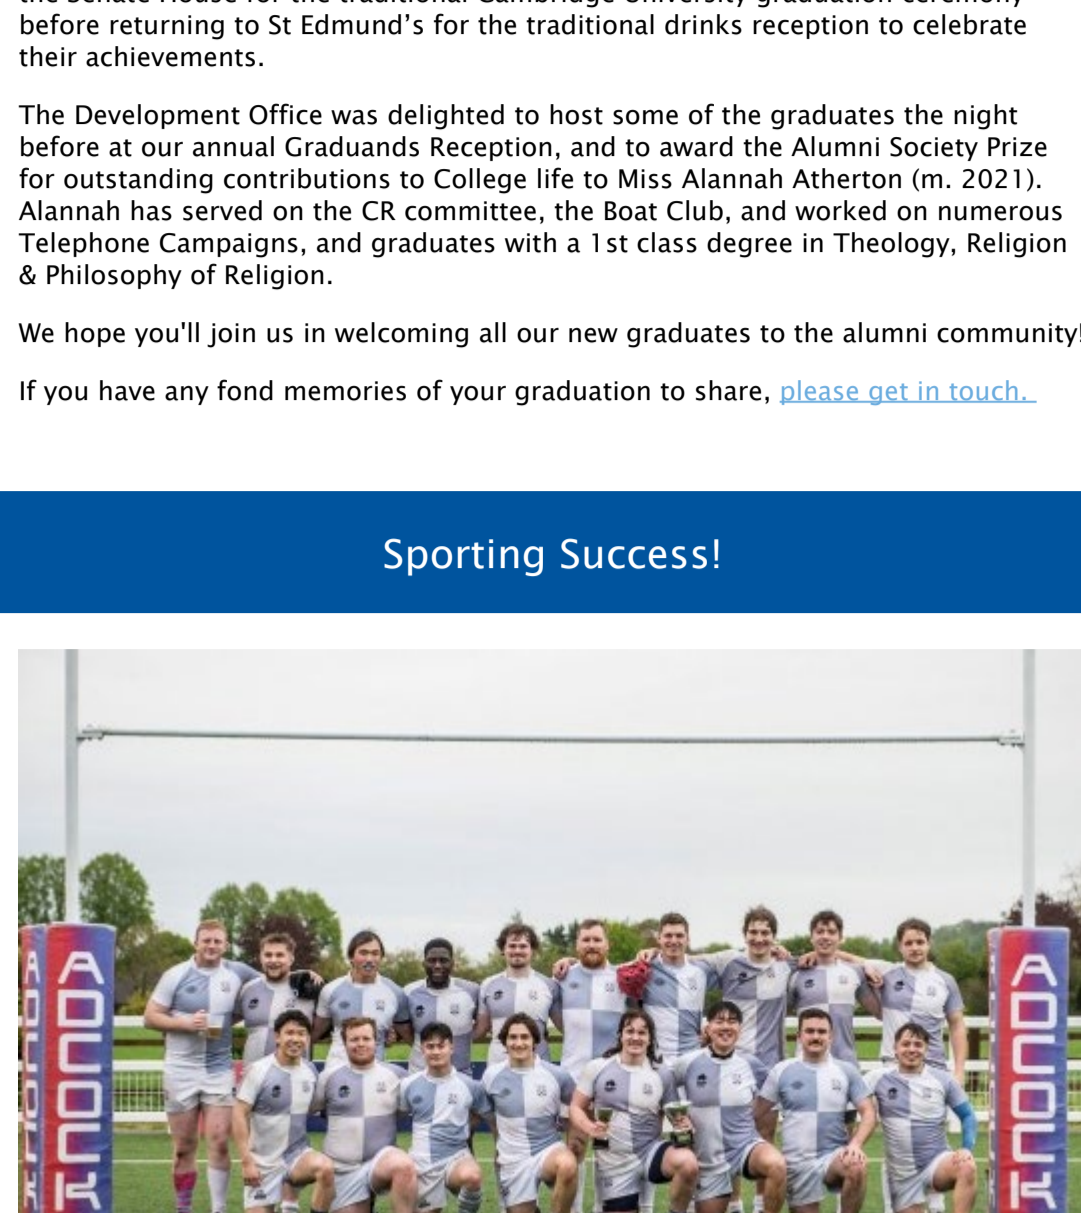

Another jam-packed term at St Edmund's has drawn to a close and this newsletter is here to tell you about all the amazing things that have gone on in College, your home from home in Cambridge. We've got shout-outs to our incredible graduates, sports victories to celebrate, and even a peek into a fantastic new summer program collaboration. Plus, there's a whole Editorial of creative writing to ponder and a warm welcome to some very special new members of the St. Edmund's family.

And don't forget to RSVP for the upcoming Annual Concert & Dinner – all the details are right here!

Yours,

William

Development Assistant

Congratulations to our most recent Graduates!

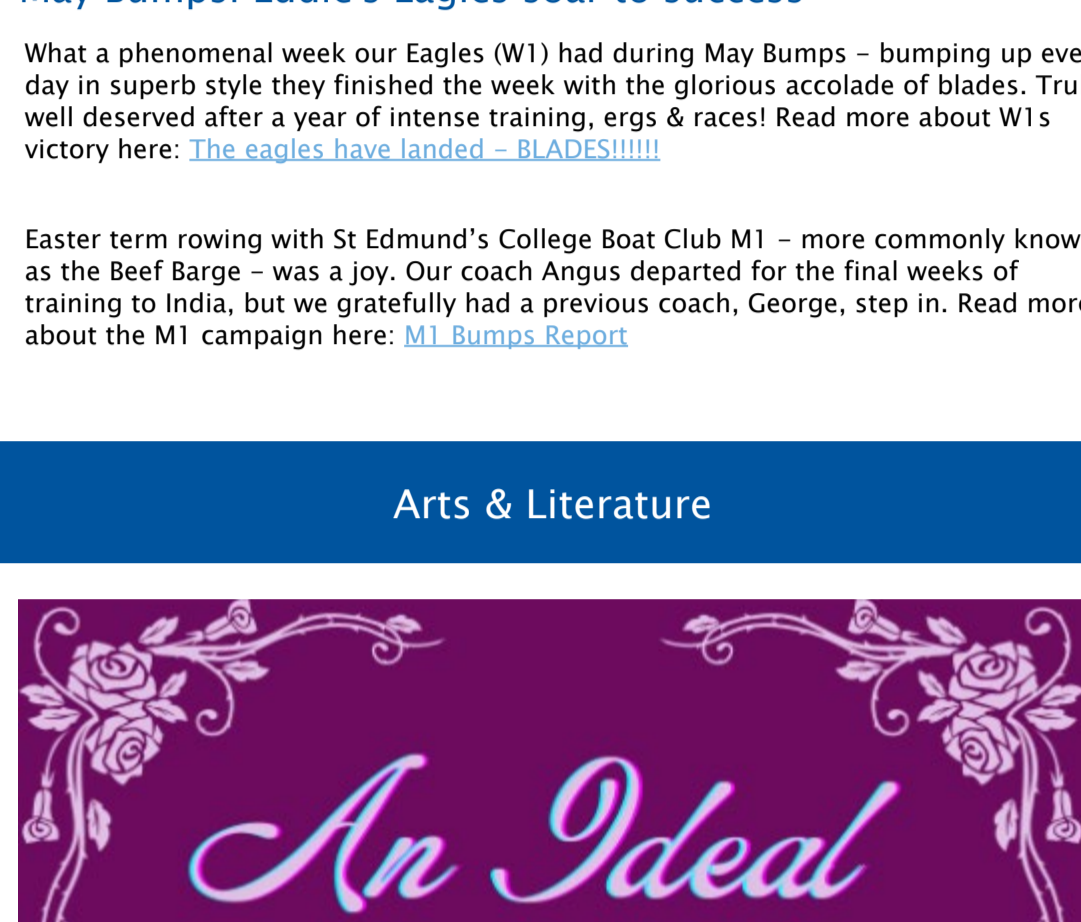

Congratulations to all our students who graduated on Saturday 29 June 2024 as part of General Admission. Our students processed down the hill from College to the Senate House for the traditional Cambridge University graduation ceremony before returning to St Edmund's for the traditional drinks reception to celebrate their achievements.

The Development Office was delighted to host some of the graduates the night before at our annual Graduates Reception, and to award the Alumni Society Prize for outstanding contributions to College life to Miss Alannah Atherton (m. 2021). Alannah has served on the CR committee, the Boat Club, and worked on numerous Telephone Campaigns, and graduates with a 1st class degree in Theology, Religion & Philosophy of Religion.

We hope you'll join us in welcoming all our new graduates to the alumni community!

If you have any fond memories of your graduation to share, please get in touch.

Sporting Success!

The All Greys win Cuppers and the Fair Play trophy

Members of St Edmund's featured in the combined All Greys XV (Eddies/Wolfson/Darwin/Hughes Hall), which won the intercollegiate Bowl final against Pilton (Pembroke/Girton) 36-15, at Shelford Rugby Club. The All Grey's have been a fantastic team this season, and won the Fair Play trophy awarded by the district referees society. This continues a long tradition of Eddies success in Cuppers, long may it continue and our involvement running intercollegiate rugby.

May Bumps: Eddie's Eagles soar to success

What a phenomenal week our Eagles (W1) had during May Bumps – bumping up every day in superb style they finished the week with the glorious accolade of blades. Truly well deserved after a year of intense training, ergs & races! Read more about W1's victory here: The eagles have landed – BLADES!!!!

Easter term rowing with St Edmund's College Boat Club M1 – more commonly known as the Beef Barge – was a joy. Our coach Angus departed for the final weeks of training to India, but we gratefully had a previous coach, George, step in. Read more about the M1 campaign here: M1 Bumps Report

Arts & Literature

Curtain Call Collaborative stages Wilde's 'An Ideal Husband'

Curtain Call Collaborative, the St Edmund's College drama society, invited guests to Step into the elegant world of Victorian England with our uproarious adaptation of Oscar Wilde's timeless classic, "An Ideal Husband." Set against the backdrop of high society, this comedic gem follows the lives of Sir Robert Chiltern and his charming wife, Lady Gertrude, whose seemingly perfect life is threatened by scandal and blackmail.

Set in the leafy surrounds of the Orchard during May Week, with extravagant costumes, lavish sets, and a talented cast bringing Wilde's iconic characters to life, this production offered an evening of laughter, romance, and intrigue.

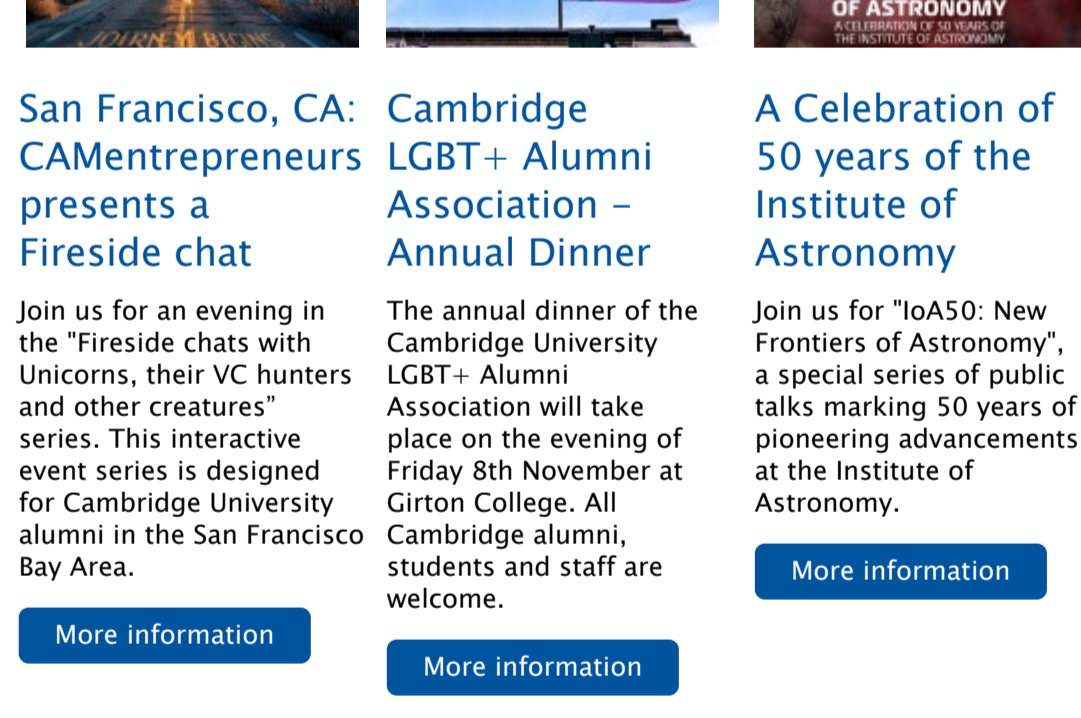

The Editorial: PILOT

Under the direction of Editor-in-Chief, Emma Foster (m. 2022), the second edition of St Edmund's College creative writing journal The Editorial was published. Emma wrote:

"This project would not have been possible without the contributors who revealed their creative projects to the world and the volunteers and designers who brought it all to life. Thank you all again for your support, contributions, and creativity. We look forward to next year!"

Alumni host reunion & AI research salon

St Edmund's MST AI Ethics & Society May 2024 graduates Dr Francois Buet-Golfouse and Steve Hoquee invited Dr Mike Katell, an Ethics fellow at the Alan Turing Institute and visiting senior lecturer at Queen Mary University of London to deliver a keynote to guests and graduates of the inaugural cohort of students to have studied AI ethics, and to enjoy a reunion dinner in College.

Steve said "It was great to learn of Mike's deep insight on the intersection between AI and social justice through the lens of philosophy of technology framed by his groundbreaking research and to reunite our pioneering MST AI Ethics & Society cohort. The St Edmund's conferencing team did a splendid job of looking after us, our group are already looking forward to returning to the college for future alumni re-union meet ups."
