

Data Protection Statement for Dinner Booking System (DBS) Users and their Guests

What information do we collect?

We collect background information about you when you use our website, including your IP address, date and time of connection and the pages you visit. We also employ cookies and similar technologies on our websites. The legal basis for processing your personal information is that it is necessary for the purposes of our legitimate interests to provide and monitor the usefulness of our website and to ensure it is kept secure. Where consent is required for cookies or similar technologies under the Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations, we will seek consent unless an applicable exemption applies.

In addition, we ask for specific personal information from you when you make a booking on the Dinner Booking System.

When you create a booking, we ask you to provide your name and CRSID, the names of any guests you are registering and any relevant dietary requirements or other instructions relevant to your booking. The legal basis for processing your personal information is that it is necessary in order to take steps to enter into, or to perform, a contract to provide the stated services to you. Where this information includes special category data, for example health, allergy, disability or religious belief information, we will also identify an appropriate condition under Article 9 UK GDPR.

What do we use your information for?

The information requested is used to create a booking for you in the system, produce guest lists and table plans, process the billing for the event(s) you register for, if your booking is successful, manage dietary, access or other requirements, and support the safe and effective running of the event.

How do we protect your information?

We implement a variety of appropriate technical and organisational security measures to maintain the safety and confidentiality of your personal information when you create a booking.

Data retained by the College is kept on secure servers and shared only with staff who are directly involved with providing the services requested through the booking process, and the running of the booking system itself. Booking data as described above is held for as long as you are formally affiliated with the College or for a period of seven years from creation (whichever is longer) and then permanently deleted, unless a longer period is necessary and lawful, for example in connection with a complaint, investigation, safeguarding matter, insurance claim, legal claim, regulatory enquiry or other lawful purpose.

Do we disclose any information to outside parties?

Information from a booking may be shared with outside contractors or service providers engaged in supplying services relating to the booking, but only where necessary for the purposes of supplying the service.

We do not sell your personal information. This does not include trusted third parties who assist us as noted above in conducting our business, or servicing you, so long as those parties agree to keep this information confidential. We may also release your information when we believe release is appropriate to comply with the law, enforce our site policies, or protect ours or others rights, property, or safety. Where a third party processes personal information on our behalf, appropriate contractual arrangements will be in place. Where personal information is transferred outside the UK and the UK GDPR transfer rules apply, the College will ensure that an appropriate transfer mechanism and any required safeguards are in place.

Your rights

You have the right: to ask us for access to, rectification or erasure of your information; to restrict processing (pending correction or deletion); to object to marketing processing in certain circumstances, including direct marketing communications; to ask for the transfer of your information electronically to a third party (data portability); and to object to processing in certain circumstances. Some of these rights are not automatic, and we reserve the right to discuss with you why we might not comply with a request from you to exercise them where the law allows us to do so.

Complaints

If you are concerned about how the College has handled your personal data, you may raise this with the College Data Protection Lead, the SIRO or the DPO using the contact details above. The College will consider data protection complaints fairly and proportionately, and will normally acknowledge receipt within 30 days.

You retain the right at all times to lodge a complaint about our management of your personal information with the Information Commission at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns>.
